FACING THE ENVIRONMENTAL TURN:
The EXTRACTIVE INDUSTRIES UNDER SCRUTINY.
Crossing legal, political and economic perspectives.

International Symposium - Ipoh, Malaysia
24-26 AUGUST 2022

Symposium Concept

This symposium is an essential meeting point between international researchers and key Malaysian industry leaders whose sectors of activity have contributed to the environmental problems of our time. The extractive industries are currently under scrutiny around the world. The lever of the new European environmental policy initiates the dialogue between legal, political and economic perspectives. The seminar attempts thus to explore the meeting of Malaysian CSR practices with the new International/European environmental regulations. Are they compatible? Will they have to evolve? Or on the contrary, will Malaysian practices adapt to European regulations? How could they inspire European law? Contemporary research on mining sustainability will be discussed.
